NEW BUFFALO, Mich. – November 20, 2023 – The Pokagon Band of Potawatomi's Four Winds® Casinos are pleased to announce that Lit will perform at Four Winds New Buffalo's Silver Creek® Event Center on Friday, February 23, 2024 at 9 p.m. Eastern. Ticket prices for the show are $30 for General Admission, plus applicable fees, and can be purchased online at Ticketmaster beginning on Wednesday, November 22 at 10 a.m. Eastern. Hotel rooms are available on the night of the concert and can be purchased with event tickets.

Lit is considered one of the preeminent bands to have come out of the post-grunge era of the late 90's and helped define an entire generation of SoCal power punk with hard-charging hits like "My Own Worst Enemy," "Miserable," "Zip-Lock," and "Lipstick & Bruises." The band has released six worldwide studio albums, including their RIAA Certified Double Platinum, A Place in the Sun, and they are currently writing and recording to release new material.

Just as the nineties dissolved into the 21st century, Lit charged up rock 'n' roll with uncompromising punk energy and a power pop punch. However, the Orange County-born band left an imprint on popular culture that only fissured wider over the years like a California fault line. Who could forget the immortal lyric, "Can we forget about the things I said when I was drunk?" or the time Pamela Anderson devoured the band whole in the "Miserable" music video - HERE.

The group outlasted the next two decades as well. They stood out as the rare act whose presence could be felt loud and clear at Woodstock '99. Twenty years after its initial release, the Billboard Music Award-winning "My Own Worst Enemy" HERE not only went double-platinum, but Post Malone also covered it on Instagram Live as did Kelly Clarkson and Jimmy Fallon on his late night show HERE. Further speaking to their enduring influence, they've inspired think pieces by everyone from American Songwriter HERE to Kerrang! HERE, while Consequence of Sound named them one of the "100 Best Pop Punk Bands." Not to mention, their music blared through American Reunion, Central Intelligence, Parks and Recreation, Rock Band, and beyond as they also impressively averaged over 2.2 million monthly listeners on Spotify. The guys have amassed a catalog highlighted by fan favorites such as the platinum A Place in the Sun [1999], Atomic [2001], Lit [2004], The View From The Bottom [2012], and These Are The Days [2017]. Meanwhile, they teased the next chapter with "Yeah Yeah Yeah" in 2021, arriving to acclaim from Loudwire, Alternative Press, and more.

Now, the quartet—brothers Ajay [vocals] and Jeremy Popoff [guitar], Kevin Baldes [bass], and Taylor Carroll [drums]—continue to do what they do best on their seventh full-length album and 2022 debut for Round Hill Records, Tastes Like Gold.
